

Making got cheap. Deciding didn't.

For companies with something important to improve,
launch, rethink or build.

One practice. A clear responsibility.

I bring strategy, design and implementation into the same conversation. You work directly with me. I bring in specialists when the scope calls for them.

A company rarely experiences its problem as a discipline. The offer may be hard to explain. The website may obstruct a sale. A new technology may change the work before anyone has agreed what it should improve.

I start there. I work across brand, marketing, digital products and intelligent systems, with seventeen years of experience informing the connections I make. I also build AI products. Production is fast now. The question before production is worth more than it has ever been: what deserves to exist here.

WHERE THE WORK TAKES SHAPE

Brand & Positioning

Choose the position, narrative and identity that express where the business is going.

Digital & Experience

Build a website, journey or product around what people need to do.

AI Training & Adoption

Help leaders and teams make practical choices about AI in their own work.

Marketing & Sales

Clarify the offer and the path from interest to a commercial decision.

AI & Intelligent Systems

Improve a workflow with an automation, an internal tool or a useful prototype.

Business & Opportunity

Investigate a market, a model or a possibility before committing resources.

The Collapse

Before you commit, your company is several plausible companies at once. The premium one. The playful one. The technical one. At 2am they all look right. The collapse is choosing one and holding it. The one that survives your market, your competitors and your own attention.

|----|----------|--|
| 01 | Observe | Look at what happens. Listen to customers, examine the work and separate evidence from assumptions. |
| 02 | Collapse | Choose the direction that deserves to exist. Make the trade-off explicit and agree on what success will look like. |
| 03 | Build | Turn the decision into something people can use: a brand, a website, a commercial system or a working tool. |
| 04 | Hold | Put the work in use. Watch what holds. Adjust what moves. Leave the team a basis for the next decision. |

OBSERVE → COLLAPSE → BUILD → HOLD

A decision leaves a record.

For each engagement I make the chosen direction, its evidence, its trade-offs and its review conditions explicit. Return to Observe when reality changes the premises. Holding a direction includes knowing when to reopen it.

Decisions leave traces.

The scope, the decisions and the work they produce.

Selvaggi

Brand · Digital · Commercial

A contractor that builds inside working hospitals. The brand said none of it.
Ongoing engagement.

Verne Jewels

Strategy · Jewelry

Beautiful images where you could not see the jewellery. A production system replaced a rhythm.
Completed engagement, 2026.

BEFORE THIS PRACTICE

Work I did before this practice existed.

UNIDO / La Minute Creative

I designed the concept and ran the campaign for UNIDO's La Minute Creative.

Audi / Driven by Art

I designed Audi's Driven by Art programme around the 1:54 art fair.

Diptyk

I ran digital strategy and content for Diptyk.

“His knowledge and skill in eliciting the right information so it can be used for strategy is extremely good.”

Elvin Picardo

“He understands my brand, is able to relate and enhance my own understanding of my brand. He over-delivers from the start till the end, working fast and efficient, within the schedule of the process as agreed.”

What needs to change?

A clear project or a question worth investigating. I can meet you at either starting point.

Engagement	An agreed scope, a clear direction and the work to make it real. You leave with the work built and in use.
Quantum Diagnosis	An investigation to define the right project. You leave with the real problem named and the right project defined.
AI Opportunity Day	A working day to examine where AI could improve the business. You leave with a mapped list of where AI would actually pay off.
AI Working Session	A focused working session around an AI and business question. You leave with a decision on one AI question.

Scope and price are defined after we talk.

Tell me what needs to change. We will define the scope together.
